INTRODUCTION:
Galápagos National Park straddles the equator 600 miles west of Ecuador’s Pacific coast. Undisturbed for centuries and isolated from the mainland, unusual species of birds, plants, reptiles and some mammals developed on the rocky, volcanic atolls of the Enchanted Isles. Darwin’s visit and subsequent studies of the island's flora and fauna in 1835 contributed to the formulation of his theory on the evolution of species and brought this fascinating ecosystem to the attention of the world. The park, Ecuador’s largest, was established in 1959 to protect the archipelago's unique environment and wildlife. Its landmass consists of nearly 3,000 square miles which is divided between 6 large islands, 12 smaller islands, and over 40 islets. In 1986, the creation of the Marine Resources Reserve expanded the preserved area to include more than 27,000 square miles of ocean. This exciting program offers a great value in the archipelago, featuring an unbeatable 5-day cruise itinerary, aboard one of the most well-appointed vessels in these waters.

After a night in Quito, we tour this historical and charming city. Following a morning flight to Baltra Island, we begin the cruise aboard our comfortable 48-passenger, superior expedition ship. Accompanied by some of the best English-speaking naturalist guides in the Galápagos, we learn about the natural history of these enchanted islands by visiting important central and northern islands. Learn about fascinating species such as marine and land iguanas, giant tortoises and blue-footed boobies. Swim with Galápagos penguins and have the chance to snorkel with sea lions and fur seals! While enjoying beautiful views of white sand beaches caressed by turquoise waters, be awed by the powerful forces of nature. Following our cruise, fly back to Guayaquil and connect to Lima. The following morning we fly to Cusco where we spend a couple of days exploring impressive Inca sites such as the Coricancha, Sacsayhuaman, Chinchero and Ollantaytambo. A visit to Pisac is another opportunity to experience and shop in a colorful Andean market before taking the Vistadome train to Machu Picchu. Spending the night at the most exquisite hotel in town we have plenty of time for in-depth explorations of the Incas’ Lost City before returning to Cusco and Lima.
DAY-BY-DAY ITINERARY:

DAY 01 (SAT):  USA / QUITO
We arrive this evening to Ecuador's lively capital, Quito, located at 9,350' in an Andean valley between rugged volcanic peaks. Meet your friendly Southwind guide at the airport (7,875') and transfer about 50 min by private vehicle to one of the city's finest hotels, the centrally located Swissotel Hotel where we spend the night. Meals are on your own today.

DAY 02 (SUN):  QUITO
Join your private Southwind guide for a full-day personalized tour of Quito and the equator monument. Colonial Quito, located along Ecuador's Avenue of the Volcanoes, is a rising star among South American capitals. First drive with your guide about an hour north of the capital to Mitad del Mundo, marking the equator's path through the country. We visit the intriguing open air Inti-ñan solar museum with exhibits unique to the geographical location, such as balancing an egg on the head of nail and the Coriolis Effect, demonstrating equal forces only found on the equator. A sun dial not only tells time, but produces a shadow on its south & north face precisely for 6 months and only on both faces during the equinoxes. Exhibits of Ecuador's ethnic groups feature typical clothing, housing styles and local customs. Next we drive back to Quito to see how the narrow cobbled streets and plazas of old town have been reinvigorated with boutique hotels and fine eateries where you can savor ceviches, quinoa soups, salads and Ecuadorian chocolate. As a UNESCO World Heritage Site, old town shines with evening lighting, whitewashed adobe walls, plazas for strolling and historic churches. Your visit will include the La Compañía or San Francisco churches with their ornate, gold-plated altars and collections of colonial paintings. Lunch is included at a traditional Ecuadorian restaurant with samples of fine local cuisine. From the top of Panecillo Hill or Itchimbia Park take in a spectacular view of the capital and nearby volcanoes. After a fun day of activity, return to your hotel in Quito to prepare for the next leg of your journey to the Galapagos. You can choose to dine at the hotel or a local restaurant within walking distance. You will be overnight at the comfortable Swissotel Hotel that features five distinctive restaurants with menus to satisfy every palate. (B,L)

DAY 03 (MON):  QUITO / BALTRA ISLAND / SANTA CRUZ (GALAPAGOS)
Pick up at the hotel and return to the airport. Our guide assists with check-in for the 2.5 hour commercial jet flight to Baltra Island, with one stop in Guayaquil en route. Upon arrival, pass through inspection where park officials ensure no foreign plants or animals are introduced to the islands. Meet your naturalist guides and transfer to the Itabaca Channel, taking a small ferry across the Channel to the north shore of Santa Cruz Island. We board our bus to the highlands of Santa Cruz, where we’ll learn about the unique montane ecosystems and biodiversity. This island has a variety of geology, wildlife, vegetation, and contains all of the Galapagos life zones. The coastal zone is only a few meters and the plant life is greatly influenced by the presence of salt. Red, white, black, and button mangrove are found along the coast. The dry zone can be remarkably arid from May to December (garua season) when only the southeast side of the volcanoes get any precipitation, and even then it is only a fine mist (garua). Here we can see the beauty of how various species have adapted to these extremely dry conditions, giving us a variety of cacti. Lunch is served at a local restaurant. Afterwards, we travel by bus to the El Chato Reserve on Santa Cruz, one of the best places in the archipelago to see giant tortoises in their natural habitat. The tortoises are easy to spot, lumbering around, eating grass and leaves and wallowing in the small pools. There are several lava tunnels in the reserve, too. A short bus ride takes us down to Puerto Ayora where we catch our zodiac, or small motorized dinghy, to the comfortable M/Y La Pinta to begin our 5 day/4 night cruise. After our crew welcomes us aboard with a cocktail, briefing and safety drill, dinner is served in the dining room. (B,L,D)

Note: please dress with walking shoes and comfortable clothes and be ready for touring. Bring a daypack with any medicines, sunblock, raincoat, water, insect repellent and anything you may need during the excursion as your main luggage will be unavailable until you board La Pinta at the end of the day.

DAY 04 (TUE):  SANTA CRUZ ISLAND
After breakfast, a zodiac ride takes us to Eden Islet, located off the Western coast of Santa Cruz. This site has no landing area; the main attraction is its incredible marine life. Here we can observe the graceful blue-footed boobies diving into the water to speer fish, Nazca boobies, marine iguanas, pelicans, lava gulls, reef sharks, rays and frigates. Ashore a variety of birds can be seen across mangrove and rocks, striated herons and perhaps flamingos. There’s a chance to snorkel and, if weather permits, ride in the glass-bottom boat. We then depart the island for a delightful lunch on board, later on we stop at the tiny island of Sombreo Chino which gets its name from its appearance: a Chinese hat. This islet, only formed fairly recently, makes a beautiful visit with its quarter-mile trail, which begins at a crescent-shaped white sandy beach nestled discreetly in the sheltered cove between Sombreo Chino and Santiago. Sea lions and American oystercatchers often frequent this beach. The trail continues along the coastline of the cove, passing beside the island's characteristic lava terrain and colorful pioneer vegetation and offering glimpses of lava lizards, marine iguanas, and Sally...
Ecuador & Peru: Galápagos and Machu Picchu

Lightfoot crabs battling the changing tides. The trail ends at the island's rocky shore, which is spattered with scenic tide pools lined with green algae and marine iguana passersby during the cool season. The cove offers excellent swimming and snorkeling opportunities in tranquil blue waters with sea lions, white-tipped reef sharks, Galápagos penguins and tropical fish. We return to the ship for dinner and a preview of tomorrow’s activities. (B,L,D)

DAY 05 (WED):  BARTOLOME AND SANTIAGO ISLANDS
This morning, a Galápagos icon awaits: Bartolomé Island. Start the day with an invigorating ascent up 375ft in elevation along a wooden path on a dormant volcano. The geological features and soils here are delicate and monitored for preservation. A spectacular panoramic view awaits from the top! The island is a unique lava landscape with pioneer plants like the candelabra cactus. It’s dotted with craters, cinder cones, lava flows, spatter cones and broken lava tunnels which run down from the summit. Back at shore, we take to the dinghies for a ride around Pinnacle Rock, the eroded remains of an old volcanic tuff cone. Enjoy the beach and some snorkeling with sea lions and maybe even penguins! A small colony of penguins breeds in the small bay, making this site one of the best places to see them. We can also ride in the glass-bottom boat for great views of the underwater world. Sea turtles have chosen this place as a nesting site, and white-tipped reef sharks are also seen. We return to La Pinta for a delicious lunch. This afternoon, we board the zodiacs to land at Sullivan Bay on the east coast of Santiago, a white coral sand beach great for swimming and snorkeling. This is a good area to spot black and white oystercatchers, lava herons and sally light-footed crabs. Follow almost a mile-long trail over a dark lava field that flowed here less than 100 years ago. This is the perfect place to see and feel the volcanic origin of Galápagos and learn about the Pahoehoe lava flows (solidified lava in corrugated form), while observing its wildlife. Tonight’s expedition briefing reveals interesting sites for the day ahead. (B,L,D)

DAY 06 (THU):  GENOVESA ISLAND
In the morning, we begin our exploration of this island at Darwin Bay, a flooded caldera of an extinct volcano, with an easy stroll to observe marine and land birds. Highlights are the nesting colonies of the common frigate, the Nazca booby and the swallow-tailed gulls. We also find nests of red-footed booby in the largest nesting colony of Galápagos for pelagic birds. Red-footed boobies are the only members of the Gannet and Booby family known to nest in trees. The nests are fairly solid structures of twigs, feathers and guano. Birds lay a single egg and both sexes incubate and fend for the young. Swallow-tailed gulls feed at night on squid and fish. They usually nest in cliffs and rocks, but here they do so on sand to camouflage their black spotted eggs. The Great Frigatebird is abundant here and is one of the main attractions of the island. Yellow-crowned Night Herons are also found here. Genovesa has no reptiles, possibly due to lack of proper conditions for the nesting of these vertebrates. There is an optional walk over sharp lava and uneven terrain for dramatic views, or we can return to the beach to enjoy swimming and snorkeling at this beautiful natural harbor. The more adventurous can snorkel along the cliffs or paddle sea kayaks. Following an alfresco lunch onboard La Pinta, the afternoon starts with a very interesting zodiac ride along the cliffs looking for fur seals and several species of seabirds. Then we disembark (dry landing) for a short but steep climb up a wooden staircase, the Prince Philip's Steps. Once at the top, the land is flat with a thin Palo Santo forest, allowing for a captivating walk of about a mile to the other side of this 5 square-mile island, observing large colonies of Nazca boobies, frigate birds and storm petrels. You can see two species of petrels that nest in cavities and holes in the lava. One is the wooden petrel, which feed during the night, and the other is the Galápagos petrel that is active during the day. One of its main predators is the short-eared owl. Following this afternoon excursion we return to the yacht for dinner and the next day’s plan. (B,L,D)

DAY 07 (FRI):  BALTRA ISLAND / GUAYAQUIL / LIMA
After breakfast and a splendid sunrise, we say goodbye to our crew and disembark (dry landing) at Baltra Island where we transfer to the airport to take the flight back to Guayaquil. Baltra’s flat substrate (due to its uplifted origin) is the reason why the island was chosen back in the 1940s as the location to building an airport. Arriving to Guayaquil in the afternoon, we’re met at the airport by a Southwind representative and assisted with catching our 2-hour evening flight to Lima, Peru. Upon arrival in Lima’s Jorge Chavez airport, our friendly staff meets you and assists with check-in at the Wyndham Costa del Sol Hotel near the international terminal. (B)

DAY 08 (SAT):  LIMA / CUSCO / SACRED VALLEY
We’re picked up at the hotel early this morning and accompanied to the airport to catch the one-hour flight to Cusco, the former Inca capital. You are met at the airport and we drive one-hour to Pisac in the Sacred Valley of the Incas. The route follows a winding mountain road providing superb vistas of the rugged canyon formed by the Urubamba River. Descending into the warm valley, our first stop is the town of Pisac (9,708’) where we visit the main square and some craft shops. Artists and vendors set up their stalls around the main plaza to sell food and colorful handicrafts. We enjoy a delicious Andean lunch and later on tour Pisac’s impressive Incan ruins, perched spectacularly on a ridge overlooking the town and countryside. The walking tour is about 2 miles and follows a wide, exposed, stone-paved trail high above the valley. We visit the main sections of the site including the religious center Intihuatana, or Hitching Post of the Sun. Observing dozens of agricultural terraces, these formations were aesthetically built to follow the contours of the hillside rising from the Urubamba River valley. We continue down the valley to Urubamba and check-in to the Sol y Luna Hotel & Spa (9,430’), a charming Andean hacienda style Relais & Chateaux property where you can relax and unwind with dinner included this evening. (B,L,D)
Ecuador & Peru: Galápagos and Machu Picchu

DAY 09 (SUN): CHINCHERO / OLLANTAYTAMBO
This morning, we drive back up to the highlands, enjoying panoramic views of the snow-capped Urubamba range including Mount Veronica and Pitusiray, both over 18,000 feet high. We arrive midmorning at Chinchero (12,335’), a charming community characteristic of Andean towns in that it combines both Incan and colonial architecture. We observe a massive Inca wall with ten trapezoidal niches, which dominates the village’s main square, and visit the colonial church. After exploring the ruins of Inca Yupanqui’s palace, we join a local community in their courtyard for an overview of the Andean weaving process. After wool is carded, spun, and dyed, learn about the different techniques used to create ponchos, belts (fajas), and shawls (mantas). On the way back to the fertile Urubamba Valley we stop at the Inca Salt Mines, then continue in our private vehicle to enjoy a buffet-style Andean lunch. Here we have a chance to sample a variety of native delicacies including: several types of potatoes (tubers such as oca); quinoa (sacred to the Incas, referred to as the “mother of all grains”); fava beans; and perhaps try a taste of cuy, a savory meat roasted with a variety of herbs traditionally used in fertility celebrations. Afterwards, we drive past burial tombs and ancient farming terraces still in use today to grow barley, wheat, and corn to reach the town of Ollantaytambo. We visit the main plaza and some of the side streets of this unique community which still retains the original street plan and foundations designed by the Incas. We’ll explore the impressive terraced remains of the Sun Temple before returning to the peaceful comforts of the Sol y Luna Hotel & Spa in Urubamba to relax and unwind. (B,L)

DAY 10 (MON): MACHU PICCHU
Rise early to head back to Ollantaytambo to board the Vistadome train for a 1.5 hour ride to the village of Machu Picchu. Ascending to Machu Picchu (7,874’) by shuttle with your expert guide for a private tour of this superb archaeological site. Perched atop a crest high above the meandering Urubamba River and surrounded by rugged, green Andean hillsides, Machu Picchu stands as more than just the jewel of Inca architecture. It represents the perfect union of human engineering and the natural environment, a city in harmony with its surroundings. Never reached by the Spanish, this magical place was brought to the world’s attention in 1911 by the American historian, Hiram Bingham. Our explorations of The Lost City of the Incas include all of the various sectors of the ruins: the industrial area, Temple of the Sun and Royal Tomb, the ceremonial water fountains and baths and Sacred Plazas. There should be time in the afternoon for the 30-minute walk to the Inca Drawbridge. We stay at the charming Inkaterra Machu Picchu Pueblo Hotel, a National Geographic Unique Lodge of the World, situated in 12 acres of cloud forest garden along the Urubamba River in town with dinner included this evening. (B,L,D)

DAY 11 (TUE): MACHU PICCHU / CUSCO
Early risers can head up to the ruins (gates open at 06:00) to catch the early morning light as the sun comes over Intipunku, or the Gateway of the Sun. There are several optional guided hikes in and around the site for active group members. Huayna Picchu Mountain (8,860’) forms the backdrop to Machu Picchu. A steep and challenging trail requiring good physical conditioning leads to terraced ruins on top, providing an excellent birds-eye view. The route ascends steadily uphill approx 1.5 hours (952 ft) on a winding and sometimes exposed trail requiring hands for balance and to hold handrails on steeper sections. There is low cloud forest vegetation along the trail. The hike back down takes approx 1 hour, roundtrip is usually about 2.5-3 hours depending on rest breaks. This trail has abrupt drops and exposure, so it’s not recommended for anyone with a fear of heights or vertigo. A nice less-crowded alternative hike is the Temple of the Moon (elev 6,692’). A 3 hour roundtrip up and downhill shaded trail leads to the mysterious, partially excavated ruins on the backside of Huayna Picchu. A series of caverns likely contained mummies during Incan times. This quiet ceremonial monument is perched above the Urubamba River, access is via the same gate as Huayna Picchu then forks to the left initially following a stone paved section that traverses up and around the base of the mountain. In some areas you will see hand cables for added security, but experienced hikers with good balance may not need to use them. You then arrive to a forested area of the trail (about 70% of the route) and descends steadily on wider stone staircases 1,280 ft down to reach the Temple complex. There are no bridges on the temple route, the trail does pass through cloud forest vegetation and may be slick in spots from humidity or moss. The Temple site dates about 1,500 years and remained hidden away until rediscovered in 1936 (25 years after the Hiram Bingham expedition). The schedule is flexible, those who prefer can relax or explore a favorite spot at your own pace. We meet together for lunch before catching the early afternoon Vistadome train for the 1.5 hour scenic journey back to Ollantaytambo. Tracing the course of the Urubamba River, we wind our way past Incan terraces and Quechua communities leaving the lush cloud forests to make our way back to the highlands. Meet the private vehicle and transfer 1.5 hours to Cusco (11,150') and the historic Libertador Palacio del Inka Hotel centrally located near the main plaza. This Luxury Collection hotel is the Palace of the first governor of Peru, Francisco Pizarro and is built over Inca foundations. For dinner on your tonight, after a full day, we recommend the hotel's Inti Raymi restaurant and perhaps a pisco sour, a traditional Peruvian drink. (B,L)
Ecuador & Peru: Galápagos and Machu Picchu

DAY 12 (WED): CUSCO
After breakfast, we enjoy a private orientation tour (combination of walking and vehicle) of this friendly, historical city. As we explore the main plaza and side streets, we realize that Cusco is still a very colonial city. There are no skyscrapers and most buildings are whitewashed adobe with red tile roofs set on Inca foundations. Cobbled streets lead up narrow passageways with brightly painted balconies overhead. Small plazas are filled with flowers and fountains. Our visits include such impressive sites as the Coricancha, the Inca's Sun Temple; the main square and cathedral, many of whose stones were taken from nearby Inca palaces; and the Incan walls along Hatunrumiyoc Street, which is named for the 12-angled stone that is clearly visible. Driving up to the surrounding hills we explore the Incan fortress of Sacsayhuaman, a spectacular complex with commanding views of the Cusco valley, and time permitting, Tambo Machay, whose ceremonial pools have remained clear and cold since the time of the Empire. We return to the Libertador Palacio del Inka Hotel with lunch on your own and the remainder of the afternoon available for personal activities. Dinner is on your own this evening to try some of the gourmet restaurants in town. (B)

DAY 13 (THU): CUSCO / LIMA / USA
Morning at leisure for personal explorations of Cusco’s colorful San Pedro market and the many side-street craft shops, museums and plazas. We are picked up at the hotel late-morning for the drive to the airport in Cusco to catch the flight back to Lima. Upon arrival we join our local guide for a private tour of colonial Lima and the fascinating Larco Herrera Museum with an extensive collection of pre-Columbian artifacts. Lunch and dinner are on your own to try a typical seafood meal such as ceviche at one of the several fine restaurants in the upscale Miraflores district. Participants leaving tonight have a return transfer to the airport this evening. (B)

DAY 14 (FRI): USA
Arrive in the US this morning and make onward connections home.

TRAVEL INSURANCE: We strongly recommend purchasing coverage to protect your trip investment. Travel insurance is important in case of unexpected events prior to departure causing the need to cancel or change your dates. Weather, natural events, local strikes, personal injury/illness for you, your traveling companion or family members, could require itinerary interruption or changes. Missed connections, delayed arrival, lost/delayed baggage or the need for medical attention or evacuation are also reasons why coverage is important. Southwind offers several plans through Travel Insured International (TII) to fit your budget and coverage amount. We recommend TII’s Worldwide Trip Protector which offers a good value and free coverage for kids 17/under traveling with a related adult. If you, your traveling companion or a family member has a pre-existing medical condition, you can still receive coverage if a recurrence of the condition forces you to cancel your trip (some restrictions apply and plan purchase needs to be done within 21 days of your deposit). Call Southwind for a quote and to discuss insurance options. Learn more and purchase on our Travel Insurance page.

Children as young as 6-11 years old are welcome aboard and qualify for special discounts. M/Y La Pinta doesn’t offer designated Family Departures but includes activities for children year-round. For year-end Holiday cruises, place your reservations at least 1 year in advance for better chances of obtaining space aboard M/Y La Pinta.

7-DAY CRUISE OPTION & PRIVATE GROUPS: The M/Y La Pinta also offers a more comprehensive 7 day/6 night itinerary which includes the Western islands of Fernandina and Isabela that also pairs well with Peru and Machu Picchu for a total of 16 day/15 night. Ask your Travel Consultant for details. Special charters of the M/Y La Pinta (or any of our other vessels) are available for private parties. We suggest making charter arrangements 2 years in advance and would be happy to provide you with prices and more information.

WEATHER: The Galápagos Islands have a surprisingly cool, sub-tropical climate. Weather is regulated by the cold Humboldt Current (flows north-westward along western coast of South America and out to the islands) during the dry season and the warm waters from the Panama Basin during the wet season. The islands only receive an average of 10" of rain per year so it is never "rainy". Temperatures vary according to the strength of the trade winds.

December – June: Cooling currents subside and temps rise. Many consider this the hot/wetter season. Daytime highs are upper 80's-low 90's and 70's at night. The water temp is at its warmest (ave 72-76°F). Feb-Apr have the highest precipitation levels (1-2"/month), rest of year is less than 1"/month.

July – November: The trade winds pick up and the climate becomes cool and breezy. Many consider this the cool/drier season. Daytime air temp ave is 73°F and 62°F at night. The ave water temp is 68°F. The sea can be a bit choppy during these months and the sky can be misty, a phenomenon locally called "garua."

Temperatures are given in degrees Fahrenheit and rainfall amounts are in inches.

Cusco: The second half of the trip is in mountainous regions where weather conditions change suddenly. The best policy for enjoying such capricious weather is to be prepared for all possibilities ranging from intense sunshine to rain, cold, and/or wind. Generally the Andean climate during the months of April-November is clear, dry and cool, but as this program includes time in the cloud forests on the eastern slopes of the Andes, rain should be expected anytime. Brief hail, sleet or snow storms might also occur at the highest elevations anytime. Andean nights are cold, while the days are pleasant and springlike. Cusco has daytime highs in the mid-70's and nighttime lows in the upper 30's. Both daytime and nighttime temperatures in the Sacred Valley are about 10-15°F warmer. The Cusco region gets more precipitation (averaging 4-6 inches/month) during the wet season, December-March, when high temperatures average between the mid-60's & 70 degrees during the day and mid-40s at night. The likelihood of rain at Machu Picchu is high. Expect showers, overcast days or mist on most departures. The daytime temperatures in the Lost City are hot (78-85°F), with mild nights (lows around 45-50°F). The sun is quite intense at these elevations, (and in the Galápagos), so a good sun screen is needed to prevent severe sunburns. Insect repellents such as Skintastic or Skin-so-Soft or long pants are a wise choice to guard against the no-see-ums at Machu Picchu.

ESTIMATED AIRFARE: The Land Cost DOES NOT INCLUDE ANY FLIGHTS. Non-stop flights to Quito (UIO) and back from Lima (LIM) are available from these US gateways: New York, Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Houston, Dallas and Atlanta. International carriers include American, United, Delta, JetBlue and LATAM. Some carriers offer flights to Guayaquil (GYE) where we can assist with arrangements, but we recommend Quito as the most convenient routing. Estimated fares for international are $800-$1,100/person and $550/person for the Galapagos and $750 for Guayaquil-Lima-Cusco-Lima. Southwind coordinates your Galapagos flights in conjunction with your island visit, that fare is payable on your Southwind invoice. Southwind has a ticketing office with access to special contract fares, a quote for your international flights can be provided on request. You do have the option to purchase your international flights or redeem award travel yourself. Upon receipt of your deposit, we send flight booking information to match your travel dates. It is important to NOT purchase any tickets until Southwind notifies you that your trip is confirmed.

HOW TO SIGN UP: Please complete Southwind’s Trip Reservation eForm. There are fields for up to 4 travelers per form with the same address. Upon receipt, your Travel Consultant will send you a SmartPay link to pay your $1,500 per person deposit by any major credit card. If you prefer, you can also call us at 1-800-377-9463 to make payment arrangements by phone or send a check. You will receive confirmation of your deposit.

Once your trip is guaranteed to operate, you will receive comprehensive pre-departure planning documents by email.

Land Balance: Final payment is due at 90 days by Visa, Mastercard, Discover, American Express or check. You will receive a trip invoice indicating your balance due. Provided services and space are available, reservations can be accepted up to 30 days before departure.

Galápagos vessels are relatively small compared to other cruises, so they typically sell out several months in advance. Early booking is required for all departures. Galápagos trips do not qualify for any Southwind discounts except the Low Season and Children Discounts mentioned under the Land Cost section. Cancellation Fees and other policies are outlined under the Terms & Conditions on Southwind's website.
