INTRODUCTION:

This exciting adventure features the best of Chile and Argentina's Lake District, one of the most arrestingly beautiful destinations in the world! Rolling hills and valleys caress the Pacific before soaring inland to snow-glazed volcanoes. Quaint farms and villages with strong northern European influences are carved out of dense, temperate rainforest, lush with bamboo, rhubarb and fuchsia. Dazzling blue lakes embrace tracts of unspoiled forest, rich river estuaries and flower-strewn alpine meadows, all showcased in some of South America's oldest national parks. Active days are complimented by cozy nights at fine hotels and lodges, offering luxurious amenities, gourmet meals and excellent Chilean and Argentine wine.

Following an overnight flight to Santiago, Chile and connection to Puerto Montt, we travel inland to Puerto Varas, a charming resort town overlooking lovely Lake Llanquihue. For two days we explore quaint villages, tour museums, walk on the Osorno Volcano and visit beautiful waterfalls. Next, we cross the Andes, stopping for a night of sublime comfort within Chile's most popular national park, Puyehue. We follow nature trails in the shadow of the Puyehue Volcano and rejuvenate in the hotel's thermal spa, fed by natural hot springs. Following a visit to magnificent waterfalls, we make the International Land Crossing to Villa La Angostura, Argentina. Here we spend two nights at Las Balsas, a captivating residence in a tranquil bay at the end of the Quettrihué Peninsula. This award-winning lodge features gourmet cuisine and a full-service spa. We arrive by catamaran to explore the famed Arrayanes Forest. Continuing to Bariloche, we hike in Nahuel Huapi National Park, based at the luxurious alpine-style Llao Llao Resort and Spa, the most iconic hotel in the country. An invigorating hike past lenga beech forests and fields of wildflowers brings us to a breathtaking overlook with views of the surrounding peaks. Flying to Buenos Aires in the afternoon, we arrive in time to experience a traditional dinner and tango show. On our final day we visit cultural and historic sites in this lively, cosmopolitan city before our overnight flight home.

DAY-BY-DAY ITINERARY:

DAY 01	HOME Depart home on an overnight flight to Santiago, Chile's cosmopolitan capital.
DAY 02	SANTIAGO / PUERTO MONTT / PUERTO VARAS Arrive early in the morning to Santiago. Connect in the airport on your own to a local flight from Santiago (SCL) to Puerto Montt (PMC), southern gateway to the Lake District. Reception by a Southwind representative and transfer by private vehicle to the resort town of Puerto Varas. The Middle European architecture makes this lake port a favorite weekend destination for the well-heeled, as well as for hikers, kayakers and anglers. Check-in to the hotel with time to relax (depending on flights) before driving to Frutillar, one of Chile's most popular lake resorts. This predominantly German community has expansive views of Lake Llanquihue and the picture perfect Osorno Volcano. Frutillar has preserved much of its traditional architecture and many of its Old World customs, like afternoon tea with kuchen. A tour of the regional museum, dedicated to the local colonizers, reveals interesting and immaculately preserved collections of 19th century farming implements and household artifacts. It is also home to several reconstructed period buildings, including a water-powered mill, blacksmith's shop and a mansion set amid manicured lawns. We also stop at the lakeside theater Del Lago and admire its state-of-the art architecture. Time permitting, we'll meet for a short walk to enjoy the views from the gentle trails of the Winkler Forest Reserve or Kewle Natural Park, a great introduction to the temperate rainforest's plant and flower diversity. This evening, we drive back to Puerto Varas with the evening at leisure. For dinner you may try some of the nearby restaurants such as Las Buenas Brasas or Santo Fuego. Radisson Puerto Varas Hotel – 2 nights
DAY 03	LAKE LLANQUIHUE / OSORNO / PUERTO VARAS Today we follow a scenic paved road around the southern shore of Lake Llanquihue to the community of Ensenada. Driving up the slopes of the Osorno Volcano (8,725') to the Tesky climber's refuge (5,085'), we enjoy incredible vistas while hiking toward the lower snowfields. The view of Llanquihue is spectacular, at 30 miles long it is the 4th largest lake in South America. Descending through typical forests, we stop to see a secondary crater called La Burbuja. A dirt road brings us to the emerald-green waters of Todos los Santos Lake, part of the famed International Lake Crossing and centerpiece of Vicente Pérez Rosales, created in 1926 this was Chile's first national park. We can walk at the lake's edge or join for a shared boat excursion (weather permitting), taking advantage of photo opportunities while learning about the area's natural history. En route, we stop and follow nature trails and walkways to see the crystal-clear waters of Petrohué Falls thundering over basalt columns and through lava flows. Lunch is included today at the charming Las Tranqueras Restaurant in Ensenada. Returning to the Radisson, dinner is on your own, with the option of trying the hotel's Balandra Restaurant for Patagonian cuisine or stroll to one of the appealing local restaurants in town. Radisson Puerto Varas Hotel (B,L)
DAY 04	PUYEHUE NATIONAL PARK Early risers can enjoy the sunrise from the hotel before breakfast. As our journey continues with a drive to Puerto Octay, we notice changes in the landscape with well-tended fields of grain and vegetables in fertile valleys. Puerto Octay is a picturesque village on a quiet bay enclosed by the Centinela Peninsula. Historically, this village was an important lake port in the mid 1800's until the railway was established. We have time to visit a small museum before we drive to Villa Entre Lagos and onto Lake Puyehue. We stay at the comfortable Termas de Puyehue Hotel with pools fed by hot springs (both indoors and open to the sky), and a complete thermal spa. This afternoon we visit the park headquarters and follow a gentle trail in the Puyehue National

Chile & Argentina: Lake District Odyssey

	Park looking for native plants, moss, mushrooms, fungi, shrubs and trees. The 1-mile Pionero Trail switchbacks through a dense forest, ending with a scenic vista over Lake Puyehue and the Chanleufu River. This well-marked trail has information signs posted throughout and offers the chance to view unique bird species such as Des Mur's wiretail, chucaco tapaculo and the black-throated huet-huet. For the rest of the afternoon, we have time to relax and take advantage of the hotel's amenities, which include an art gallery housing a permanent exhibit of paintings and sculptures, and a small antique museum. Special reading rooms, house selected literature from Chilean, Latin American and European authors. This evening we dine at the hotel's Olivia Nova or Lago Puyehue restaurants with vistas of the mountains in the distance, choosing from a variety of international dishes and an exclusive wine list. Termas de Puyehue Hotel – 1 night (B,L)
DAY 05	INTERNATIONAL LAND CROSSING Today we drive to the Anticura section of Puyehue National Park. The country's most popular park was created in 1941 to protect approximately 260,000 acres of pristine forest, stark volcanic scenery and wildlife; 125 species of birds and 35 of mammals, including puma, grey fox and pudú (the shortest deer in the world reaching only 14 inches high). In the lower forests, dominated by the ulmo, we also find the olivillo, tino and southern beech trees. In the dense undergrowth is the arrayán, famous for inspiring Disney in the creation of the sets for the movie Bambi, and quila, a genus of solid bamboo that grows in impenetrable thickets. Back dropped by the Puyehue volcano (7,350'), our well-marked trail leads to the lovely falls and cascades for which the area is known, notably Princess Falls and Salto del Indio. Afterwards, we depart for a scenic drive across the Andes. We cross the Cardenal Samoré International Pass at 4,311 feet. Our drive takes us into beautiful evergreen and deciduous forests, dotted with southern beech trees, including coihues and lengas. Driving into Argentina, our route takes us to the beautiful Lago Espejo, (Mirror Lake) and Lago Correntoso (Swift Lake), part of the Seven Lakes Route. Time permitting, we stop to take pictures and for a short walk among old coihue trees, following an easy trail through a beech forest. Lunch is included at a typical restaurant en route or in town. Afterwards, we continue to the charming town of Villa La Angostura a tranquil resort community of attractive cabins and lodges tucked sporadically into the evergreens on the shore of Lake Nahuel Huapi. In the afternoon, we'll check-in to Las Balsas, one of only two "Relais & Chateaux" hotels in Argentina. Opened in 1989, Las Balsas is nestled in the forest on the shore of a tranquil bay. The 20-room residence is designed to fit perfectly in a woodland setting with large windows overlooking the water. The cuisine is a delicacy of wild meats, fish, vegetables and herbs grown on the property. On occasion and depending on availability, we may stay instead at the equally charming and upscale Correntoso River & Lake Hotel, a member of Small Luxury Hotels of the World. Las Balsas Inn – 2 nights (B,L,D)
DAY 06	VILLA LA ANGOSTURA This morning we catch the 1-hour catamaran to visit Parque Nacional Los Arrayanes. A scenic, often overlooked park located on the tip of Quetrichué Peninsula, Los Arrayanes protects one of the largest remaining stands of the arrayán tree, a member of the myrtle family. In the Mapudungun language of the Mapuche Indians, the peninsula's name means "place of the Arrayanes." Our route follows an easy interpretive loop highlighting the region's flora and birdlife. We walk amid the amancay or mutisia as well as coihues and ñires while listening to sweet calls of the diucas and bandurrias. This forest is unique with several trees reaching 60-80 feet (very tall for an Arrayán), some are up to 300 years old. The trunk of the Arrayán is very twisted, with cinnamon colored bark which is very cold to the touch. The tree's flower is small and white and produces a violet berry. It is said that the natives brewed wine and made jam from the berry, and a medicinal tea is prepared from the leaves. Later, we return to mainland for lunch at Viejo Coihue, a nearby restaurant serving dishes typical of the area. In the afternoon, we stretch our legs with a short hike. A few miles from town starts a well-established path that will take us to the Brazo Ultima Esperanza. We will trek through native forest for 1.5 hours until we arrive at a site where an old Coihue tree stood until recently. On our way back we may take another scenic trail which will lead us to one of the nicest bays of the Nahuel Huapi called "Last Hope" where we will stop for a mate (Argentine tea) tasting. We'll have the opportunity to see unique species of trees, birds, insects, fish and several varieties of ducks. Afterwards, a short drive brings us back to the inn. Las Balsas Inn (B,L,D)

DAY 07	BARILOCHE / LLAO LLAO This morning, enjoy a 2-hour gradual uphill hike to the Belvedere lookout for a lovely panoramic view of the surrounding lakes and mountains. Correntoso Lake and River can be seen, as well as three important sections of Lake Nahuel Huapi, Brazo del Rincon, Machete and Ultima Esperanza, well known for fishing. The lakes are back dropped by the range forming a mountain border with Chile, including the peaks of Macal, Tres Hermanas, Pantojo (an old volcano), Matus and Campana. According to time/interest, we can hike to see Inacayal waterfall (adds 1-hr round-trip). After returning to town, we drive around Nahuel Huapi Lake to the Argentinian resort town of San Carlos de Bariloche, stopping en route at the historic El Boliche Viejo, and old Patagonian style country store/restaurant for lunch. Once in town, we walk through the main square, perhaps to sample the region's famous chocolates or displays of the lovely wool crafts produced in the area. Continuing into the heart of the Lake District, we arrive at the prestigious Llao Llao Resort. Situated in an idyllic setting, on a peninsula surrounded by mountain peaks, lakes, rivers, and forests, this "Luxury Hotel of the World" and state-of-the-art spa is the perfect ending to a spectacular day. This evening, we recommend the nearby Il Gabbiano gourmet restaurant, featuring Mediterranean-style cuisine prepared with excellent local products of the region. Llao Llao Resort – 2 nights (B,L)
DAY 08	NAHUEL HUAPI PARK After an early breakfast, a 1 hour drive brings us through Bariloche and up to Cerro Otto (4,610') for panoramic views of Nahuel Huapi National Park and a day of easy-going hiking. Designated as a national park in 1903 (the first in South America), Nahuel Huapi protects more than 3,000 square miles of lakes, sparkling rivers, trout streams, turquoise glaciers, rocky, snow-capped peaks, dense forests, and waterfalls. Following a winding and scenic road, we arrive at the trailhead and begin walking by lenga beech forests and fields of wildflowers. We look for amancays, legend says that the red streaks on the upper petals of the yellow flower are the blood of a beautiful princess stolen by a condor. We keep an eye out for Magellanic Woodpeckers as we head to the Halzburg lookout (about 4 miles round trip). From the rocky top we have spectacular views of Nahuel Huapi, Moreno and Gutiérrez lakes and the peaks of Tronador, Catedral and Campanario among others. Back in the city we enjoy a local style lunch at one of the distinctive restaurants in Bariloche. Returning to the Llao Llao, we have the remainder of the afternoon and evening at leisure to take advantage of such amenities as: tennis, spa treatments, fitness center, swimming pools, golf or any number of outdoor activities such as horseback riding (extra cost applies), biking or water sports. With dinner on your own, you may dine in elegance this evening at one of the hotel's restaurants, perhaps enjoying a traditional Argentine barbeque, fine wine as strains of tango melodies from the piano to soothe the senses. Llao Llao Resort (B,L)

DAY 09	BARILOCHE / BUENOS AIRES This morning we drive a short distance to lovely López Bay, from this landscape we hike about 1 mile following a gentle and scenic trail to view the Brazo Tristeza section of Lake Nahuel Huapi and Cerro Capilla (7,110'). Later, following a winding road through Nahuel Huapi Park, we stop by fields of colorful lavender, whose sweet scent permeates the air. Completing our circle, we ascend by chairlift to the top of Cerro Campanario for a superb panoramic view of Lake Nahuel Huapi (Tiger Island in the Mapuche language) and Lake Moreno. We arrive back in Bariloche and continue to the airport to check in for an afternoon local flight from Bariloche to Buenos Aires. We are met in this buzzing, European-style city by our city guide providing a private transfer to the hotel, centrally located by the elegant and exclusive Recoleta neighborhood near shopping centers and art galleries. This evening, we are treated to a memorable Argentine farewell dinner and sultry tango show at one of the best venues in the city, the exclusive Gala Tango. Emperador Hotel Buenos Aires – 1 night (B,D)
DAY 10	BUENOS AIRES / DEPARTURE The morning is at leisure for final shopping or sightseeing at your own pace. The Puerto Madero upscale waterfront district is nice for a stroll among shops and cafes. On weekends, a visit to the nearby Cortázar Square in Palermo Viejo is a nice option. In the afternoon, meet up with your local guide to see city highlights such as the Plaza de Mayo, where the city was founded, Metropolitan Cathedral and the neighborhoods of San Telmo and Montserrat. We drive by the Obelisk landmark, 9 de Julio (the world's widest avenue containing 22 lanes), the splendid Colón Theater, National Congress, Casa Rosada (Government house), and other historical buildings in the city. The intriguing and famous Recoleta Cemetery rounds out our tour. By early evening, we transfer 1 hour to the Ezeiza International Airport to board an overnight flight home. (B)

NORTHERN PATAGONIAN/LAKE DISTRICT WEATHER: This region resembles the Pacific Northwest of the USA with pleasant, but changeable weather during the summer months (November-February) and cool, damp winters. Temperatures seldom reach extremes. Average daytime highs range from 60-70°F on sunny days to the low 40's when overcast, and nights are typically in the mid to low 40's. As noted above the weather is changeable—varying from warm sunshine to drizzle, to rain and/or sleet, in a matter of hours, and returning to sunshine just as quickly. Heavy or all-day rain showers can be expected at any time during the summer season (the region receives an average of 72.6" of precipitation per year, and about 280 days have some rain). January and February are the driest months of the year, averaging 3.6-3.7 inches of rain, followed by November, December and March, each with about 4.6 inches. To ensure maximum comfort, clothing must be readily and quickly adaptable to such changing conditions.

Having coverage provides peace of mind and is important in case of unexpected trip cancellation due to illness or health/medical condition/injury requiring medical treatment by a physician. Southwind recommends the Worldwide Trip Protector Deluxe from Travel Insured International.
