INTRODUCTION:

Panama is a land of crossroads, bridging the gap between the Pacific and the Atlantic Oceans with the Panama Canal, a manmade wonder of nautical navigation. The small country is a cultural kaleidoscope of thriving metropolitan capital city, old world influence and traditions, indigenous heritage, laid-back coastal lifestyle, and rural agricultural livelihoods. When it comes to landforms and ecosystems, Panama serves as a microcosm of Central America – it's all here! Families, couples, birdwatchers, and nature-loving adventure travelers of all kinds will find a piece of Panama to love.

DAY-BY-DAY ITINERARY:

DAY 01 (SAT): TO PANAMA CITY

Depart home and arrive this afternoon to Panama City, the country's capital on the Pacific coast. Upon arrival to Tocumen International Airport (PTY), meet your Southwind representative and transfer to the historic Hotel La Compañía, located in Casco Viejo (Old Town), housed within three beautifully restored buildings. Meals are on your own today.

DAY 02 (SUN): PANAMA CITY / GAMBOA RESORT

Meet your private guide this morning and amble through the Old Town on foot, taking in the bright colors and architectural mixtures of Panama's many heritages – Spanish, French, Italian, and American. Old Town's charming churches, plazas, palaces and promenades have been spruced up to their original glory by a recent restoration project, which gained the district lofty status as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. From a vantage point on top of Old Town's wall, look out over the Pacific Ocean and see the modern skyline of downtown Panama City. Next is a brief visit to the fascinating Biodiversity Museum. Here, world-famous North American architect Frank Gehry created his only work in Latin America. The building and its eight permanent exhibition galleries are a narrative, explaining Panama's natural history as an isthmus with vast biodiversity. Enjoy a delicious lunch at nearby El Nacional or Mahalo Restaurants.

Before heading into the rainforest, we'll have one more stop en route – How do huge cargo vessels pass through the Panama Canal? Start the visit by unlocking the secrets of canal at the Miraflores Locks. You'll see the rising and dropping of the ships as they make their way between the only passage of water joining the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. From here, depart on the one-hour drive to Gamboa Rainforest Resort, a sanctuary deep in the heart of the rainforest. (B,L)

DAY 03 (MON): SOBERANIA NATIONAL PARK / PANAMA CANAL

Tropical wildlife viewing and forested trails await us today in Soberania National Park. You'll find yourself perched on a 130-foot-tall observation tower, amidst the treetops, binoculars in focus. With a bit of luck, you'll see the morning flight of the keel-billed toucan or a black hawk-eagle and glimpse the elusive mantled howler monkeys. A visit to the Rainforest Discovery Center and a nature hike along the surrounding trails will round out the morning rainforest excursion. See how many of the National Park's 525 species of birds and 105 species of mammals will you come across. Next, we'll meet again with the Panama Canal – this time in the heart of the rainforest. On a private expedition boat trip to Gatun Lake, we'll bypass huge tankers and cargo ships, all while surrounded by the sights and sounds of the jungle. If you keep your eyes open, you may spot Howler monkeys, White-faced Capuchin monkeys, and maybe even a sloth swinging lazily in the branches. In the water, look for caiman and turtles swimming along oblivious to the river traffic.

After a satisfying lunch back at Gamboa Rainforest Resort, we'll have one more visit to the forest's canopy aboard an aerial tram! The tram ascends 280 feet above ground, covering half a mile and culminating at the top of a hill where an observation tower awaits. Ramping up another 100 feet to the top of the tower, you'll have a bird's eye view of the Chagres River, the only river in the world that flows into two oceans. The neon colors of Panama's tropical forest jump out from below. Back at the resort, enjoy an evening of relaxation amidst the sound of birdsong and views of the sun setting on the horizon. (B,L)

DAY 04 (TUE): EMBERA VILLAGE / BOQUETE

After breakfast at the Gamboa Rainforest Resort, join your private guide and drive about 1 hour to the starting point of our cultural adventure. You'll find yourself gliding along the Gatun River in a dugout canoe to meet our welcoming indigenous hosts from the Embera Quera community. Cultures mingle here as you learn about their customs and beliefs, sample the traditional body painting, witness their music and dance, and admire their handmade crafts such as masks, baskets and carvings. Here, on the shores of the Gatun Lake, the Embera people live closely attuned to nature – lives very different from our own. A light lunch is served, featuring the local fare prepared by the Embera.

Return by canoe to meet our driver and continue to the Albrook National Airport for a 35-minute flight to David (capital of the Chiriqui province in western Panama). This is the country's fertile "breadbasket", a highland area of spectacular volcanoes that provides fertile farmlands, lush cloud forests, and cooler fresh air compared to the rainforest and the coast. Transfer by van to the eastern side of the dormant Baru Volcano (the tallest mountain in Panama, at 11,398' high), reaching the quaint town of Boquete with its coffee plantations and extraordinary cloud forest ecosystem. Check in to Finca Lerida, just outside town. Finca Lerida is an Eco lodge on a private nature reserve and coffee plantation, located at an altitude ranging from 5,000 to 10,000 feet. It is a great place for spotting quetzals and other colorful exotic birds. Dinner is on your own this evening. (B,L)

Panama Tropical Discovery

DAY 05 (WED): BOQUETE

This morning a waterfall hike through the Falling Waters Nature Reserve awaits. This remarkable trail passes through virgin cloud forest, retracing the steps of pre-Columbian Indians who panned for gold in these waters. You'll be hiking uphill and alongside Quebrada La Mina, a stream of clear waters that feed the Rio Caldera. Among the series of waterfalls, you can even explore an underground cave and bathe yourself in the mists of the cascades. Afterwards, a bistro-style lunch is served at the Rock Restaurant's outdoor terrace beside a garden overlooking the Palo Alto River.

Get ready for treetop thrills this afternoon at the Tree Trek zip line! This zip line park gives you a safe, close-up, aerial view of the highland forest, bordering La Amistad National Park and Baru Volcano, from fourteen different canopy platforms spanning 1.8 miles in length. You'll glide along the cables through the most diverse part of the cloud forest ecosystem – the canopy – where most of the birds, insects and mammals dwell. Afterwards, Return to Finca Lerida for the evening and to enjoy its fine Mediterranean and local cuisine at La Brulerie restaurant. (B,L)

DAY 06 (THU): FINCA LERIDA / PACIFIC COAST

Join other guests at Finca Lerida early this morning for a guided birdwatching and nature hike through the 900-acre estate bordering Amistad National Park, a natural reserve protected both by Panama and Costa Rica. It has been declared a UNESCO Natural World Heritage Site. Look for the Resplendent Quetzal perched in the Aguacatillo tree where it eats its favorite fruit. It is thanks to Finca Lerida's conservation efforts that quetzals and so many other rare birds (up to 250 species in this area) can still be appreciated. The nature trails pass through primary and secondary forests and also by the coffee fields, each in a slightly different microclimate, which adds variety to the kinds of beans cultivated.

After a pleasant lunch at Finca Lerida, we'll head out to the next portion of the trip – the coast! But first, we'll take in a 'bean to cup' coffee experience at Finca Don Pepe. At this coffee plantation, we'll zoom in even closer on the coffee production process – from cultivation, harvest, humidity, and drying to roasting, grinding, and of course tasting! You will train your tongue on difference between Arabica and Robusta, the subtleties of Italian and French roast, and learn the traditional and artisanal aspects that make this coffee a 100% organic specialty product.

After a 2-hour scenic drive this afternoon, smell the marine scent in the air as we approach Boca Chica, a small fishing village along Panama's central Pacific Coast. This village, still mostly local and un-trodden by tourists, is uniquely positioned as the gateway to both Gulf of Chiriquí National Park and the neighboring island of Boca Brava. Check into the Bocas Del Mar Hotel, where you're free to explore the seaside atmosphere and find a dining option – perhaps delicious fresh fish or lobster at the resort restaurant. (B,L)

DAY 07 (FRI): GULF OF CHIRIQUI NATIONAL PARK

This morning, join other Bocas Del Mar guests for a special Island Discovery boat excursion. You'll head out into the stunning Gulf of Chiriqui Marine National Park with your local captain to the nearby islands. The national park, covering 60 square miles of ocean and islands, is known for its green iguana lizards, humpback whales, dolphins, manta rays, several species of turtles, stingrays, monkeys, and hundreds of types of exotic birds and tropical fish. Observe the marine life with the breeze in your hair and feel the warm tropical sunshine and sand between your toes on pristine white beaches. The boat will make one or two stops for snorkeling and beach relaxation at Isla Bolaños, Isla Paridas or Isla Gámez.

Return to Bocas Del Mar for lunch overlooking the sea. Afterwards is leisure time to soak up sun on the beach or by the hotel's beautiful infinity pools. Then, celebrate the sunset today aboard the hotel's own boat. Head out late afternoon for the Sundown Mangrove excursion and cruise along the serene waterways looking for wildlife and surrounded by amazing river forest vegetation. The environment here is totally different from this morning's excursion, inspiring wonder at such diversity in nearby landscapes. Toast the sunset as the boat navigates the Pacific Ocean just in time to watch the sun release a smattering of color as it disappears behind the water. Spend another pleasant night at the Bocas Del Mar Hotel with dinner on your own at the resort's open-sided restaurant. (B,L)

DAY 08 (SAT): PACIFIC COAST / PANAMA CITY

As a final journey on the water from Bocas Del Mar, we'll take a kayaking tour inshore to the calm, tropical waters surrounding Boca Chica. On this private guided excursion, enjoy unique access to local beaches and move at your own pace. You can choose between a single or a double kayak or even a pedal boat for exploration along the coast and into the thick of the mangroves. Instruction will be provided on paddling technique, self-rescue, navigation, packing and other elements of expedition sea kayaking. Cover about 4 to 6 miles, taking time to snorkel, relax, and walk along the beaches. As the kayaking is a private tour with a support motorboat, you'll get to decide how far you want to go based on experience.

Panama Tropical Discovery

and the local conditions. A shorter route closer to the bay and by nearby islands (Ventanas, Saino or Linarte) is an option. Return to the hotel for a delightful seaside lunch, then transfer one hour by vehicle to David airport for a short flight back to Panama City. Meet a Southwind representative on arrival and transfer to the elegant and central Bristol Panama for the night. Experience the vibrant city life with a final dinner on your own this evening to try the hotel's Salsipuedes restaurant or one of the fine restaurants nearby. (B,L)

DAY 09 (SUN): PANAMA CITY / HOME

After an early breakfast, transfer to the Tocumen International Airport (PTY) to board your international flight home. Arrive in your gateway city this afternoon and make onward connections home. (B)

NOTES ON THE ITINERARY:

Although we do our best to adhere to the above schedule, this itinerary is subject to change for numerous reasons beyond our control, including group pace and acclimatization, weather, road, trail and sea conditions, flight delays or cancellations, as well as changes in plane schedules. This trip is suitable for healthy participants accustomed to outdoor activities, age 12 and up. On Day 05, a softer alternative to the uphill hike at the Falling Waters Nature Reserve is The Pipeline Trail, a 3.8-mile out-and-back hike in Volcán Barú National Park. Known for birdwatching and a good area to spot the elusive Resplendent Quetzal, the trail features lush rainforests, river crossings, ancient trees, and ends at the scenic Hidden Waterfall. An option to zip lining is the Tree Trek Hanging Bridges (2-2.5 hours), a fun and safe activity for all to enjoy. Gain appreciation of the biodiversity of the tropical cloud forest from this unique perspective. A circuit of 6 trails, one-way going uphill with a descend on the way back, combine with 6 suspension bridges over 2.5 miles in the treetops in the Río Cristal reserve in the Talamanca mountain range bordering La Amistad International Park.

Changing the days of the week on this itinerary may affect the flow of activities as some of the visits may not be available every day. Depending on final flight schedules, some of the activities may follow a different sequence but all or similar activities will be provided.
